CHILEAN DOCUMENTARY AT SHEFFIELD DOCFEST 2026

SYNOPSIS

Exiled after the 1973 coup, Isabel Allende transformed personal and political loss into literature. In the 1980s, she shattered Latin America's male-dominated literary world, becoming the most widely read Spanish-language author in history. This is not only the story of a literary legend, but of a survivor who shows how storytelling itself can be an act of love and a tool for resistance. Featuring an original score by Chilean-Canadian film composer Cristóbal Tapia de Veer.

SYNOPSIS

In 1975, the Chilean dictatorship denied the existence of Jorge Müller (27), a young filmmaker who was forcibly disappeared. His mother, Irma Silva, gathered archives, photographs, and notebooks to prove otherwise. Fifty years later, his memory and cinematic legacy reemerge as an act of resistance and justice.

SYNOPSIS

I've lived in Barcelona for years and rarely call my family in Chile. "Why is it so hard to talk to them if I love them?" I ask myself. One day, I receive a text message from my father: my grandfather, a high-ranking official in the dictatorship, has been sentenced. As a son, driven to break the silences that separate us, I take his old camera and return in search of answers.

SYNOPSIS

In 1974, an epic yet forgotten concert was held in New York to denounce the crimes of Chile's dictatorship. Its inspiration came from a chance encounter years earlier between musicians Phil Ochs and Víctor Jara. Today, a Chilean filmmaker passionate about live music sets out on a journey to uncover its story and reconstruct an archive believed to have been lost.
